NeoKavach Tech Pack Air: India’s First Wearable Motorcycle Airbag Backpack

The open road brings freedom, but it also comes with risk. That’s why NeoKavach introduces the Tech Pack Air — India’s first wearable motorcycle airbag backpack. Designed for modern riders, this lightweight, roll-top backpack is more than just gear storage — it’s a next-gen safety system.

What Makes It Unique?

The NeoKavach Tech Pack Air combines motorcycle airbag technology with a functional, weatherproof backpack. It features a built-in Level 2 back protector and a modular air vest system that provides airbag protection during impact. In the event of a fall or crash, the vest activates instantly to safeguard your spine and upper body.

This motorcycle safety backpack also includes 360° reflectors to enhance visibility, especially for night rides. Its waterproof shell ensures your essentials stay dry, while the roll-top design offers adjustable storage for riders on the go.

Smart Design Meets Smart Safety

Unlike traditional airbag jackets, the Tech Pack Air is modular and ultra-light. It offers the flexibility to switch between a backpack and an air vest without compromising comfort or mobility. It’s ideal for city commuting, long-distance rides, and everything in between.

What sets it apart? There are no subscriptions, no hidden fees. All NeoKavach airbag products are fully reusable with simple cartridge replacements. This means you get continuous protection — affordably and reliably.
